Councillor apologises over busway remarks

BY CARL MUNGAZI
 carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A COUNCILLOR who said usage estimates for the Luton Dunstable Busway were 'embellished' has apologised and admitted he 'got it wrong'.

Cllr Dave Taylor said he made a 'mistake' and has issued an apology following a radio interview last week in which he said the expected number of journeys in the busway's first year were 'embellished'.

Last week Luton council revealed there had been 1,040,000 busway passenger journeys between its opening on September 25, 2013 and the end of June this year.

A business case submitted by the council to the government in 2008 estimated there would be three million passenger journeys in the first year.

Following Cllr Taylor's claims last week, the ex-chair of the Luton Conservative Association John Young lodged a formal complaint with Luton council's chief executive Trevor Holden.

Margaret Hodge MP, chair of the Public Accounts Committee, has also asked the National Audit Office to look into the matter.

In a statement issued on Thursday, Cllr Taylor said: "I wish to make it absolutely clear that projected passenger figures for the Luton Dunstable Busway were not embellished in any way.

APOLOGY: Cllr Taylor (inset) is sorry for 'getting it wrong' over the busway

"I got it wrong and apologise for my mistake.

"The 2008 business case put forward 'pessimistic', 'most likely' and 'optimistic' scenarios in terms of what the local economy would look like, and the impacts of projected jobs, homes and airport growth on future transport demand.

"I was mistakenly referring to the 'optimistic' projections when in fact it was clearly the 'most likely' scenario that was used.

"These figures were verified by separate economists acting independently for both the Council and the Department for Transport, and no concerns were raised by the Government about the economic assumptions made.

"If the National Audit Office should wish to look again at this matter then myself and the Council would welcome that, there is absolutely nothing to hide."

Cllr Taylor added that it was 'regrettable that this genuine mistake during a live interview has been turned into a local political football'.

Luton is the fastest growing airport in the UK

LUTON Airport experienced its busiest month on record in August, leaving the rest of the UK's airports lagging behind.

Compared to the same month in 2013, there was a 11.8 per cent growth in passenger numbers in August 2014, the largest growth of all UK airports.

Gatwick Airport came some way behind in second, with figures of 8.2 per cent, while the average growth for the country was 4.4 per cent.

Clive Condie, Executive Chairman of London Luton

Airport Operations Limited, said: "Interest in London Luton from leisure and business passengers has never been higher.

"This is a great platform from which to launch our ambitious redevelopment programme and enable London Luton to become a leading airport serving London, Luton and surrounding regions."

London Luton is on track for the busiest year in its 76-year history.

The increase is being driven by new routes and carriers and a new 10-year deal with easyJet announced in March which will see the airline grow capacity at London Luton by 20 per cent over the next year.

Also, the £100m redevelopment of the airport, approved in July, will see the airport increase its annual passenger capacity by around a third to 18 million.

The redevelopment is also expected to increase the airport's annual economic impact by £283m, to around £1.2b, and create over 5,000 new jobs.

Luton is currently on track for its busiest year, but numbers are only expected to increase.

Charles Bronson's art to be sold at auction

BY CARL MUNGAZI
carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON-BORN Charles Bronson, described as Britain's 'most violent prisoner', will see some of his artwork go under the hammer at an auction on Thursday.

The 61-year-old inmate, who recently changed his name by deed poll to Charles Salvador, has become almost as well-known for his artwork as his life of crime.

The collection, which has been offered by Mr Salvador's family, will be sold at 5pm at JP Humbert auctioneers in Towcester, Northants.

A proportion of the proceeds will be donated to The Brain Tumour Charity and Keech Cottage Hospice in Luton.

Mr Salvador's artwork is made up of around 200 lots including paintings, personal effects, clothing, signed books, a hand-made Christmas present and even part of his beard.

Auctioneer Jonathan Humbert said: "Mr Salvador has now 'rejected violence' and adopted his new alter-ego.

"In his own words, 'I have given this a lot of thought and I really have little choice but to kill Bronson off once and for all. I have become a hostage of my own notoriety; Bronson is burying any chance of me ever being freed'." After being jailed for seven years in 1974 for robbery, Bronson went on to make a name for himself by fighting prison guards, taking other inmates prisoner and starting one man riots.

Among the artwork will be part of Bronson's beard

Most recently he pleaded guilty to assaulting the governor of HMP Woodhill in Milton Keynes. He is currently serving a life sentence in Full Sutton Prison in York.

Mr Humbert added: "From an individual who has clearly spent most of his adult life in prison and who, by any stretch of the imagination, has lived a very 'alternative' life, come pencil and crayon studies that show an intelligent, albeit troubled and frustrated mind, working together with a capable and detailed hand, combining to depict works of clear artistic merit.

"What is clear from the many stories that these items tell is that even though so many years have been served behind bars, the indomitable human condition still fights through with a clear sense of humour that prison walls cannot quell."

Safari elephants welcome baby

A BABY elephant has been at Woburn Safari Park to the park's 20-year-old Asian elephant.

The calf was welcomed by her mother Damini, after a 22-month pregnancy, and father 20-year-old Raja, who is Woburn's only bull elephant, along with the rest of the Park's five-strong herd.

The unnamed calf is just three feet tall and weighs 122kg, and is expected to grow up to be three metres tall and weigh a hefty four tonnes.

Woburn's elephant team said they had been thrilled to see the park's new addition up and walking within minutes of her arrival.

She is expected to spend her first few days bonding with her mother, exploring her new home in the elephant house, as well as meeting the other female elephants within the herd. Terry Shelton, Woburn's head of elephants, said Damini had 'taken to motherhood fantastically' and been 'very relaxed'.

Vicar is jailed for 'child sex chats'

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A VICAR has been jailed for two years for a series of depraved online chats he had with children, including one where he told a girl to sexually abuse her sister.

Reverend James Ogley, vicar of St Francis' Church in Carteret Road, Luton, also told the 13-year-old he wanted her and her nine-year-old sister to have sex with their own mother.

Police discovered his warped communications when they went to the vicarage where he lived with his family and seized his laptop.

Ogley, a married father of two young children, pleaded guilty at Luton Crown Court to seven charges of publishing obscene material in the form of chat logs.

Six offences relate to material posted online in June 2012 and one to a publication in November 2012.

He has been suspended from his post as vicar since his arrest in January last year and the Diocese of St Albans has said the Bishop of St Albans, Rev'd Dr Alan Smith, was deliberating on what course of action to take.

The court was told Ogley had been a regular visitor to the chat room for youngsters, deriving sexual gratification from the chat logs.

However, officers from Hertfordshire Police's County Community Safety Unit went to Ogley's home after receiving 'intelligence' that someone at the address had been attempting to contact children via an internet chat room and asking them to 'commit child sex offences'.

When the couple were questioned about their use of the chat room, the vicar said he had not visited the chat forum for 'some time'. His wife said she had not used the chat room since her days at university.

But after officers were provided with a password to his laptop, chat logs were discovered that showed he had been having 'sexually explicit' online conversations with youngsters who appeared to be under the age of 16.

The judge told Ogley had police been able to trace those people receiving his chat logs, then he could have faced the much more serious charges of inciting a child to engage in sexual activity.

Following Ogley's sentencing, the Diocese of St Albans said Rev'd Dr Smith 'may now impose an appropriate penalty under the Clergy Discipline Measure 2003'.

The Bishop of Bedford, Rev'd Richard Atkinson, said: "The sentence reflects the gravity of James Ogley's actions. The Church of England and anyone entering one of our churches rightly expect the highest standards of behaviour from clergy and all those holding office."

"James Ogley's behaviour fell far short of that standard."

He added that his prayers were with 'all those affected' by Ogley's actions.

Stitches for pub attack man

A MAN needed 24 stitches to his upper lip following a violent attack in which he was punched by someone holding a glass.

The victim had been at the Duke of Clarence pub, on Upper George Street, at 3.20am last Saturday when the attack happened.

Bedfordshire Police said the victim, along with a 17-year-old boy and another teenager, had been smoking in the pub garden when he was punched three times in the face by someone holding a glass, causing a deep slash wound to his face.

Detective Constable Mohammed Hussain, investigating, has described the attacker as a white male, 5ft 10 tall, of slim build, with short brown hair, clean shaven and blue eyes.

He has a deformed left finger and both little fingers are bent inwards.

He also has a tattoo on his right wrist saying 'MUM' with stars around it. He was wearing a black fleece with a hood, a white long sleeve shirt, dark trousers and black shoes.

THE landline has to go. I am talking phones but trying not to talk on them.

The only calls I ever get on the landline are people trying to sell me something. They are not even honest enough to say that's what they are doing. Rather it is a favour I am being done, by sorting my PPI, or switching my energy supplier, which will save me 50p a year, or a myriad of other resistible offers.

Some seem to be quasi-governmental such as those offering me loft insulation or solar power at a special discount. We have some solar powered lights in the garden, which flicker into life for a few brief minutes before fading like a politician's promise, so I am not enthralled into trusting my whole house heating with it.

One question I always ask is can they put that in writing. They never can, so I am never interested. And for some strange reason they always phone on the landline. Perhaps they are yet to find my mobile number. How lucky are we to have that option. Whereas friends, colleagues, family always use the mobile. Maybe because they know I will swear at them and slam the phone down on the landline.

It's time for the landline to go!

I can remember the days when that was the only phone, with my dad constantly shouting at me to get off the damn thing as it cost money. When I said they called me, I got a clip round the ear for my backchat.

Now we are constantly attached to a phone. Most people even take their mobile into the lavatory. I know this because it is the most common place to damage it, by dropping it into the bowl. I digress.

I read somewhere that we can expect up to six of these nuisance calls a week, with people making pitches, for things that will make my life better. What would make my life better is if they would stop. Ironically one of the calls was actually offering us a way to block or divert nuisance calls. I said put it in writing. He said no. I hung up.

We sometimes get six a day, including weekends. Perhaps they like to be sworn at.

THE new Press Regulatory Body has its test case.

Did the Sunday Mirror entrap former Government minister Brook Newman, and, if they did, is there a public interest defence? We shall see but if the last 30 years have taught us anything on these matters, it is that the balance of power lies with the Establishment, not with the press.

Otherwise we would have known about Savile and former MP Cyril Smith much earlier. Injunctions and super injunctions still sit out there, to protect other celebrities. Better a free press that might sometimes get it wrong.

Retired teacher pens first novel

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A FORMER head of humanities at Luton Sixth Form College has written his first novel.

Michael Sherborne, who retired from teaching last year after 23 years at the school, has self-published the book titled Don't Shoot Mr Daunt!, which is available now on Amazon.

While the setting was familiar, the novel is fictional.

Mr Sherborne said: "I thought the obvious thing to do was set the novel in a college like I worked in, as it was easy to think of things."

"I did use a few real life situations as inspiration, but the characters are completely fictional."

PROUD: The former teacher showing off a copy of his first novel

"The book is really about how in life you are under everyone else's control."

"Everything you do is someone else's idea, particularly in a professional job, and really your life is a story that someone is narrating."

"My teacher wants to tell his own story, and by the end of the book he does."

While it is his first novel, this is not the first time Mr Sherborne has written published works, having penned a biography of H.G. Wells and a number of A Level English literature guides.

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerve often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

In Bedfordshire, you can try Non-Surgical Re-constructive Spinal Care at the Atlas Wellness Centre – the office of low back pain and sciatica relief expert Peter Olsson.

Peter and his team of fully trained spinal care specialists have helped over 3,000 patients find relief from their agonising back pain and sciatica.

Special LUTON ON SUNDAY Reader Offer

Breakthrough relief for back pain and sciatica

Advertisement Feature

According to Peter, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in Bedfordshire, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your low back pain and sciatica; and a unique programme for reconstructing the damaged area causing the pain; this means superior long-term results for most people."

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg."

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

Your invitation for a comprehensive consultation and examination to pinpoint the cause of your low back pain and sciatica...

Luton on Sunday has teamed up with the spine therapy specialists at Atlas Wellness Centre, to help readers find relief from their persistent back and sciatic pain.

Epic run 'difficult'

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON'S Dave Hall has recently finished a charity run from John O' Groats to Land's End in aid of housing conditions in Sierra Leone.

He's an experienced long distance runner and has pulled off an epic challenge of managing to run 40 marathons in 40 days.

When asked how he did it, Dave says: "With great difficulty, if I'm honest!"

"I tried to start at 9am each day, run for three hours and then have a break for lunch."

"I'd usually run a shorter stint in the afternoon after a bit of a recovery."

He averaged the distance of a marathon each day, but sometimes ran a bit more and other times a bit less.

He added: "The most I ran in one day was 35 miles, when I got lost and had to run cross country to find a main road."

TRAINING: Dave ran an hour a day

GOT YOUR BACK: Dave's family and supporters

Recovery was a very important part when it came to completing the run, with a daily routine in place.

Dave said: "For recovery, I'd drink a protein shake at lunch and also as soon as I'd finish and then have a good meal in the evening."

"I had physio sessions and every night I'd have a cold bath so my muscles wouldn't cramp up, which also helped heal up the aches."

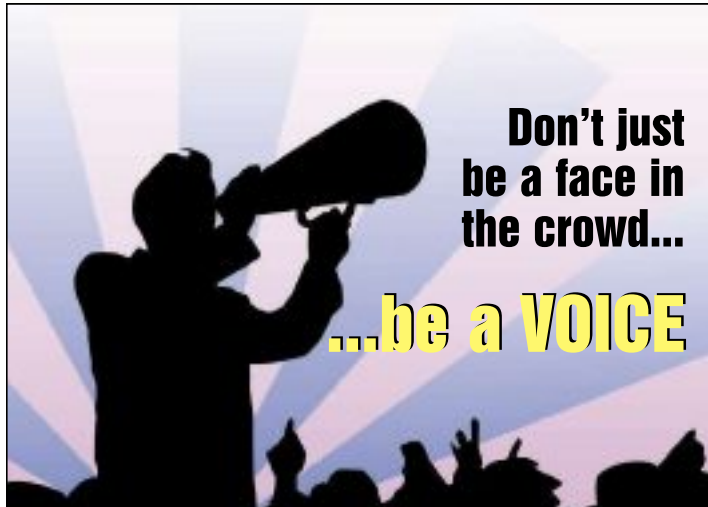

Despite all this, getting started each morning was a challenge. The first hour of each day was absolute agony, but after that my legs loosened up and it was enjoyable.

"The first week was the hardest, but if you can keep going you get fitter, lose weight and it starts to get easier."

Training for the event consisted of running the London Marathon and then an hour's run each day for six weeks before the start.

On his training, Dave said: "I ran around the hills near Barton le Clay, or around

ON DISPLAY: Lhouette with an example of his work

Dunstable artist to exhibit in London

BEDFORDSHIRE-based self-taught urban pop artist Lhouette (aka Ciarán Robinson) has produced an exhibition which will feature at a London art event later this month.

Mr Robinson, originally from Dunstable, will display his newest exhibition, Beauty Clinic, at the Moniker Art Fair in Shoreditch on October 16.

His original works have fetched more than £10,000 at auction and collectors of Lhouette works include The Apprentice star Louisa Zissman.

Wage boost for council workers

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

LUTON Borough Council has boosted its minimum wage to become a 'living wage employer'.

The new policy came into effect on October 1, meaning all employees of the authority will earn a minimum of £7.65 per hour, £1.15 above the national minimum wage.

Cllr Hazel Simmons, leader of the council, said: "These are harsh economic times and many families are simply struggling to make ends meet. As well as making sound business and economic sense in terms of staff motivation and retention, we believe it is morally right that people should earn a fair wage and have a reasonable standard of living."

This is part of the council's commitment to lifting more families out of working poverty and sees it join many other authorities, businesses and organisations leading the way to make sure employees are paid at least the amount calculated to cover basic living costs.

Cllr Simmons added: "While the number of directly employed council staff who will see their earnings increased is relatively small, it is vital that we are leading the way on this, and we will be encouraging other local organisations to follow suit."

As well as helping to recruit and retain staff, the council also hopes that the policy will send a strong message to other employers in the borough to adopt the scheme.

EMERGENCY: Fire crews respond to the fire in Mill Street

Washing machine blaze inside flat

FIREFIGHTERS had to be called out to put out a washing machine fire.

Three fire engines rushed to Summerview Court in Mill Street, last Sunday evening following reports of a blaze in one of the flats.

No-one was injured and firefighters were able to deal with the incident quickly.

An eyewitness on the scene said she had seen the fire service using breathing equipment and an extractor fan on the scene.

A community order for benefit fraudster

BY JULIA SUTTON

editor@lutononsunday.co.uk

A WOMAN has been given a 12-month community order with 200 hours of unpaid work after being convicted of benefit fraud.

Sarah Webb, 34, of Jasmine Road, Luton, appeared at Luton Magistrates' Court on Monday after she pleaded guilty to fraud offences.

She had failed to report a change in her circumstances to Luton council and as a result, fraudulently obtained housing benefit of £6,351.42.

In addition to the community order she also has to pay £220 towards the authority's costs, a £60 victim surcharge and repay the benefit money in full.

The court heard how the council's investigations team had looked into her benefit claims after receiving a detailed anonymous phone call.

Through this the authority then discovered Webb had failed to report that her partner had moved in with her. Following Webb's conviction, Cllr Mohammed Ashraf has issued a warning to residents who claim housing benefit but don't tell the authority of any changes in their circumstance.

He said: "Benefit fraud is stealing, and people who claim at the expense of taxpayers when they are not entitled to do so can be assured the council will catch up with them and work relentlessly to bring them before the courts."

WHEEL SURPRISE: LAMP receives keys for a new Vivaro

Charity gets Vivaro van from Vauxhall

CAR manufacturer Vauxhall has donated one of its new vans to a youth homelessness charity.

LAMP, which cares for vulnerable young people in Luton, received the keys to the new Vivaro from Vauxhall's finance director John Fulcher.

The car maker, which has a factory in the town, said the van was part of its plan to support local projects.

John Archer (pictured left), LAMP's CEO, said the van had been a 'great surprise and honour'.

BMW parts thief handed jail term

BY CARL MUNGAZI

carl.mungazi@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN involved in stealing parts worth more than £100,000 from BMW cars in Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and Buckinghamshire has been jailed for 16 months.

Wayne Sames, 28, of Vincent Road, Luton, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to steal between April 6 and June 19 this year.

He asked for 21 further offences to be taken into consideration.

He had six convictions for 37 previous offences. Stephen Halloran, defending, said Sames was not the 'brains of the operation' and had played a part to pay off his drug debts, but was now drug-free.

St Albans Crown Court heard that specific BMW parts were stolen from 30 cars over two and a half months earlier this year.

These included alloy wheels, convertible roofs, wing mirrors, multi-functional steering wheels and consoles. The court heard Sames had been linked to a theft by a partial DNA match, and number-plate recognition technology and mobile phone evidence had been placed near areas where other thefts had taken place.

The prosecutor said a conservative estimate of the loss to the drivers and their insurance companies in the spate of thefts was more than £100,000.

In jailing him, Recorder David Mayall said he accepted that Sames had played the role of a 'foot soldier'.

Why action is needed to help stabilise Iraq

IRAQ. Rarely does a word engender such an immediate, sometimes visceral, reaction in most people.

Like millions of others, I opposed the war in Iraq in 2003. I supported military intervention in Libya in 2011, and vehemently disagreed with proposed action in Syria last year, having decided I would willingly pay for it with my job should I have to.

I concluded that I couldn't vote with my party if we supported the government in their desire to bomb President Assad's regime. In the end it was our party's opposition that allowed us to defeat the government by the tightest of margins.

So I'm neither a 'hawk' or a 'dove'. I suppose, like many of my generation who marched about the second Iraq war, my default position on military intervention is sceptical, or as I would say, 'realist'. That has always motivated me to analyse each vote I am asked to cast in situations of foreign affairs intensely.

In the House of Commons, David Cameron made an argument for military action that was first and foremost about protecting the UK from attack. I personally feel this was the wrong starting point.

Gavin Shuker, MP for Luton South, explains why his supporting the limited action being taken to try and stabilise the situation in Iraq

Indeed, we've been here before at the time of our last adventure in Iraq.

But this conflict is not that one. In 2003, Britain sought to change regimes in Iraq; today we are acting on the invitation of the democratic government of Iraq. Indeed, those carrying the placards around Westminster saying, 'Don't bomb Iraq' need to confront the reality that the fighters we are taking on don't even view it as Iraq in the first place.

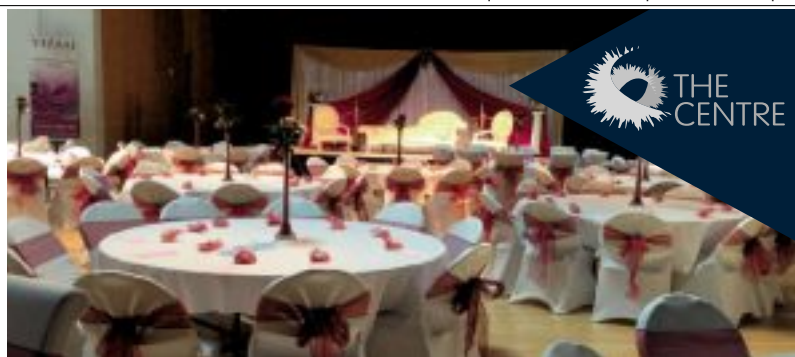

In 2003, we acted without the support of the other countries of the region. In this conflict, there is broad international support not a divided world, with all 28 EU member states and the Arab League providing support; and five Arab states taking part in action. They too realise that ISIL is killing Muslims in the name of Islam, and they represent a threat to all the people of the region.

In 2003, we chose to go to war when other options were on the table. In this conflict, ISIL have declared war on us; indeed anyone who does not agree with their ideology can expect brutal repercussions. There is no argument about whether military action is a last resort. The shocking images of westerners being beheaded only pale against the reports of infanticide, rape and execution of religious minorities in vast numbers.

So, to stabilise Iraq, and give the most vulnerable people in that region a fighting chance, I support this limited action by the UK government.

Win tickets to see a night of Motown music magic at the Grove

COMPETITION

The Magic of Motown
The Grove Theatre, Dunstable
Thursday, November 27

CLASSIC 60s hits from artists like Stevie Wonder, Marvin Gaye and the Temptations are coming to Dunstable for one night only – and you could be there too.

We have two pairs of tickets (each pair is worth £45) to give away for The Magic of Motown show at The Grove Theatre.

The show is currently on a 100-date UK tour, to mark the 50th anniversary of when Motown landed and took off over here.

In 1964 Motown crossed the Atlantic and the label's artists took the charts by storm.

Over 100 number one singles across the world followed and the Magic of Motown will pay tribute to some of the most famous songs and artists.

Direct from the USA, the show looks to perform the songs with as much authenticity as possible, both in terms of music as well as in costume and looks.

For a chance to see them in action, answer this question:

In which American city was the Motown label based?

Send your answers to nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk. Mark them 'Motown Competition'. Closing date is Saturday, October 11.

Please include your name, address and a daytime phone number. The first two entries drawn after the closing date will each win a pair of tickets to the show. Entries received after the closing date will not be counted. There is no cash alternative. Terms and conditions apply. The editor's decision is final.

For tickets and information call the Grove on 01582 602080.

Stockwood show is building up a head of steam!

OUTDOOR SHOW

Steam Fair
Stockwood Discovery Centre
Today (Sunday)
Free entry

THERE is something a little bit different in Stockwood this weekend, when a steam fair comes to Luton.

Visitors will be able to enjoy a host of magnificent working steam engine exhibits and stationary engines in all their glory.

In addition to a number of visiting steam engines, two of the museum's own historic engines, lovingly restored and cared for by volunteers, will be on display.

Among the wonderful engines on display will be two of the museum's own steamrollers from the Mossman Collection.

They are sure to draw crowds and one of them might even be steamed up, weather permitting.

This event offers visitors the chance to chat to members of the museum's experienced steam engine volunteers, who have been restoring the museum's two rollers since 1999.

While entry to the event is free, visitors have been encouraged to make a donation towards the Steam Roller Fund, for the upkeep of these engines and also Luton Culture, who help put on events such as this to ensure the sustainability of future events in Luton.

Weekly arts event for young people in Houghton Regis

ARTS AND THEATRE

Art Town
The Hub, Houghton Regis
Tuesdays, 5.30pm-9pm

A FREE weekly arts and theatre activity event has come to Houghton Regis aimed at people aged 11-20.

Started by Full House Theatre, just some of the activities at the event will include dance, drama, art, film, photography and costume design.

Art Town is funded by organisations including the Royal Opera House Bridge, the People's Health Trust and Houghton Regis Town Council, so every activity is completely free.

Addie Akinrinade, says: "The Art Town project allows everyone to explore and express their creativity within their own community, and it's a fun way of getting people more involved in the arts."

Ms Akinrinade was the winner of the Pride of Houghton Regis award for her work with the Art Town initiative.

As well as all of the activities, there is also the opportunity to gain nationally recognised arts qualifications, as well as training to lead your very own arts project.

The group will also be performing at the Grove Theatre as part of the Houghton Regis 'Winter Arts Garden' this December, so this is the perfect time to join for those who want a taste of the stage.

There are two different sessions running for different age groups.

The session for youngsters aged 11-14 runs from 5.30pm-7pm and the session for people aged 15-20 runs from 7pm-9pm.

For more information call 01234 838138.

FILM REVIEW

The Equalizer
2hrs 11mins, 15
In cinemas now

OSCAR winner Denzel Washington returns as shop assistant Robert McCall in the exceptionally violent re-make of the 80s' TV show, The Equalizer.

McCall, a retired black ops officer, leads a humdrum life working in a home supplies store (think B&Q) in Boston – until a helpless street walker turns up covered in bruises and smeared makeup.

It doesn't take long until Washington is knee deep in mobsters and corruption as he dreams up endless creative ways to torture and maim using the supplies of his store.

Hacking limbs, slicing throats and corkscrewing heads is how our anti-hero dispenses justice to "equalise" power in favour of the helpless, but it won't win any awards for the amount of senseless violence it's intent on delivering.

Fortunately Denzel Washington is a high pedigree actor who carries enough gravitas to deliver a captivating performance, it's just a shame that the material he's got to work with is far from being equal to his talent.

But watching him make sadistic villains quake in their boots is darkly satisfying and, let's face it, Washington playing a vigilante is the only reason you'll see this film.

We can almost forgive the less favourable aspects of the film with Washington as its saving grace, if it weren't for the generic clichés director Antoine Fuqua is determined to shove down our throats. Cliché tough one liners, a dock showdown and a slow motion walk away from a giant explosion?

Please, it's been done before. At over two hours The Equalizer is too long, even if violence with power tools does cause the occasional flinch.

For an actor who has never starred in a sequel, let's hope Denzel doesn't start with this one.

PRESS RELEASE

SEPTEMBER 2014

Prime time to sell, says Connells

Agent asks sellers to set them the 'Six Week Challenge'

As the nights start to draw in, local estate agency Connells in Luton is pleased to report it is seeing several rays of light in the local property market. The agent has experienced a rush of activity as homeowners look to secure a sale and move before the Christmas holiday season begins so has reinstated its 'Six Week Challenge' campaign, giving homeowners a chance to sell their property in record time and for the best price.

Connells' 'Six-Week Challenge' is designed to help those looking to move home find a buyer more quickly. Utilising all of the team's expertise and knowledge of the local housing market, Connells pulls out all the stops to get participating properties off the market in under six weeks.

"There are many reasons why people want to sell their homes as quickly as possible," says Lee Clark, Branch Manager for Connells. "For many, it's down to personal circumstances, such as relocating for work, while some have set their sights on a dream home and need to secure a sale on their current property before putting in an offer.

"Whatever the reason, Connells' 'Six-Week Challenge' is designed to help these individuals achieve a sale in a short timeframe," Lee continues. "We've run this campaign before with much success so I would urge anyone wanting to sell their home quickly to contact us at the branch and achieve winning results in just six weeks."

Connells in Luton is seeing a greater degree of confidence across the market from sellers. This is great news for buyers who are getting more choice but demand is still outweighing supply.

"It is not unusual at this time of year to see more people looking to move," Lee continues. "We often find with the summer over and children back at school people can turn their attention to moving home. Whether you are buying for the first time, upsizing, downsizing or looking for that ultimate dream home, now is a great time to get the ball rolling if you want to move before Christmas."

If you are interested in participating in Connells' 'Six Week Challenge' and would like to book a free market appraisal, please contact your local Connells branch on 01582 450999 or email: Luton@connells.co.uk.

MISSING - PLEASE HELP

This is Francis, our beautiful and beloved cat. He was last seen on Tuesday 9th September between Ridgmont and Steppingley. He is only a year old, is microchipped and he is a distinctive light grey tabby. We would ask everyone if they could check their sheds and garages, and let us know if he is spotted. We all miss him hugely, and are offering a reward of £250 for his safe return. Many thanks in advance, Ellie and Alex.

TALENT SCOUT

The Skoda Octavia Scout estate offers an all-wheel drive chassis, a raised ride height and a pair of punchy diesel engines at prices that stack up against some superminis. It's bigger inside than a Passat Alltrack or an Insignia Country Tourer and cheaper to run than both as well. Job very well done.

The basics are pretty straightforward. For this sort of car, you really want an estate bodysell, a bit of extra ride height, a brawny diesel engine and the obligatory all-wheel drive mechanicals. Skoda duly delivers, with the engine choice extending to either a 2.0 TDI 150PS with a six-speed manual gearbox or a 2.0 TDI 184PS featuring a six-speed DSG twin-clutcher as standard.

The Scout certainly looks the part, with a distinctive front end that features a silver skid plate and fog lights assembly. There's also a redesigned rear end, with black body cladding added to help keep scuffs off the paintwork while off-roading.

The ride height has been jacked up by a further 33mm, and with a total ride height of 171mm, the Scout has even more ground clearance than many so-called SUVs such as the Audi Q3.

The Skoda Octavia Scout is the sort of vehicle bought by people who will genuinely use its extended capabilities. It's a car that will get the job done in all weathers and which will shrug off some serious punishment in the process. It's never going to make the longlist of those looking to make a lifestyle statement or impress their friends at the golf club and that, in part, is what makes the Scout so appealing. It's authentic, and authenticity is something car manufacturers spend millions trying to claim.

Both variants have something to be said for them. The entry-level car offers sterling value, while the more powerful engine and silky-smooth DSG gearbox are items best not sampled if budgets are a bit tight. As a one car solution that does nearly everything, the Octavia Scout takes a heck of a lot of beating.
